

Our Musical Club

167

R.Banks

To our mu- si- cal club, here's long life and pro- spe- ri- ty and pro-
To our mu- si- cal club, here's long life and pro- spe- ri- ty and pro-
To our mu- si- cal club, and pro- spe- ri- ty, long life long

7

spe- ri- ty, long life and pro- spe- ri- ty. May it flou- - - rish may it spe- ri- ty, long life and pro- spe- ri- ty. May it flou- - - rish may it life, long life and pro- pe- ri- ty. May it flou- - - rish

12

flou- - - rish, may it flou- rish with us and so on to po- ste- ri- ty.
flou- - - rish, may it flou- rish with us and so on to po- ste- ri- ty.
- rish, may it flou- - - rish with us and so on to po- ste- ri- ty.

Trans./Ed. Tony Singleton, January 2006 from Kentish Harmony, pub.1821 (Brit.Lib.A.211.a).
The composer is probably Ralph Banks, the organist at Rochester Cathedral from 1790-ca.1840.